(Complete Stock Exchange and Curb Quotations Appear Daily in Wall Street Final Edition of The Evening World.)

Narrow stock price movements, a lrop in foreign exchange rates, heavness of the grain markets, and easier soney conditions were features o inancial dealings to-day. In all markets trading was largely perfunctory, and the bulk of transactions originated in professional quarters. At times he stock market was in a condition f almost complete inertia.

The west showing in the stock list was made by the oil and tobacco shares. Pool operations in these groups were responsible for gains amounting to from one to more than two points. Pan American was leader of the oils. Its advance was stimulated by unconfirmed reports that at the forthcoming meeting of directors the dividend will be increased from a to an 8 per cent, annual basis. American Sumatra led the tobaccos. The annual report of this company will be insued in a few days. At one ime it had been believed that the report would show but a slim balance available for dividends. It is now inderstood that it will show approximately $10 carned for each share of The remarks of Judge Gary regarding the general steel situation were everywhere read with keen interest but were without market influence. This may have been because there is a large and responsible element in Wall Street who disagree with the views he expressed regarding prices and wages. The head of the Steel 'orporation does not believe that steel price cuts will stimulate business. Neither does he believe that wages should be reduced. Yet there are many surrewer judges of the buni ness situation among the banking fraternity who adhere to the belief that there will not be measurable and sustained improvement in the steel susmess until both the price and wage scales are revised downward. Un ted States Steel, although it advanced only fractionally, was able to make a new high on the present move at 85. Independent steel shares were firm.

The leather shares were weak.
